Introduction

Tesi's Gender Equality Plan (GEP) represents the concrete commitment to devise and implement a program of actions and policies aimed at promoting inclusion and gender equality in every area of the company.

The process that led to the drafting of the Gender Equality Plan took into consideration five thematic areas suggested by the European Commission (work-life balance and organizational culture, gender balance, gender equality in recruitment and career progression, gender integration in research and teaching, combating sexual harassment and gender-based violence).

The evolution of Tesi

Tesi is a company with over 35 years of experience that makes human relations its mission. The project for the adoption of this GEP comes at a time of structural and organisational change. This policy sets out the principles and objectives that underpin the company's commitment to issues related to gender equality and the enhancement of diversity. This policy is addressed to all Tesi employees and shared with all stakeholders, suppliers and customers.

The principle that underlies our corporate policy on the Gender Equality management system is based on the assignment of roles and responsibilities through evaluations that derive from training, skills, results achieved and the desire for growth.

The organizational structure of Tesi provides for the assignment of tasks (managerial and functional), depending on the type requested, to personnel in possession of the requisites required following an internal procedure.

Tesi's Personnel Department believes that the pursuit of gender equality is an important objective for the sustainable growth of the company and the generation of a positive social impact.

What are the benefits of a gender equality approach?

- 1) Openness to talents capable of bringing and transmitting innovation and creativity;
- 2) Focus on retaining talent based on creating a balance between work and personal needs.

A company that cares about gender equality turns out to be:

- 1) Preferable for potential clients who believe that gender equality is critical;
- 2) More attractive to those who are considering career opportunities;
- 3) In terms of social responsibility, a model to be proposed to new generations and partners.

The strategic plan details the identified goals and indicates how to define them.
